

DINOSAUROLOGY™

Activity

SPOT THE DINOSAUR

Imagine that you have landed on a remote island off the coast of South America where colonies of prehistoric beasts still roam. Your expedition team comes across a watering hole, and all of a sudden you see a living, breathing dinosaur! Is it a large diplodocus? Or an armored triceratops? Maybe even the king of all dinosaurs, the fearsome Tyrannosaurus rex?

On this page of your observation journal, identify the species of dinosaur and draw it.

Remember, there could be a predator nearby, so don't get too close!

Dinosaurology™, Dragonology™, and the Dragonology logo are trademarks of The Templar Company Ltd. Border illustrations © 2003 by Douglas Carrel.

